Software donation a boost for business centre

BELMONT Business Enterprise Centre has received $3300 worth of software from Microsoft.

The software was donated as part of Microsoft's $23 million commitment to charities.

"Belmont Business Enterprise Centre will use the donation for Windows 7 Office software and other server software," centre spokeswoman Carol Hanlon said.

The non-profit community-based centre, which has been running for 16 years, helps small business in Belmont.

It provides practical business support and centre staff organise business workshops and information sessions.
