Mayor upbeat as he launches business awards

"THINGS are on the move in Belmont" Mayor Phil Marks declared at the launch of the 2013 Belmont Small Business Awards.

The awards will celebrate 20 years in acknowledging small businesses excellence in categories including best new business and indigenous business of the year.

Cr Marks listed local multi-million dollar infrastructure investments including the Gateway WA project and the Great Eastern Highway upgrade and said things were starting to improve in small business.

Businesses can enter the awards, which will be presented on November 28 at the Perth Exhibition and Convention Centre.

Small business owners and community members attended the launch, with the success of local textile designers Petra Vanessi, Betty Tran and Silver Star Designs on display.
