How to stay compliant, profitable and future-ready in 2026

Australian business owners are entering a period of rapid change. From evolving compliance rules to new technology and rising customer expectations, 2026 is shaping up to be a year where adaptability will separate the businesses that thrive from those that merely survive. The good news? With the right strategies, you can stay not only compliant but also profitable, and set your business up to be truly future-ready. How?

How long businesses survive and why they fail

What determines which companies thrive while others fade? From resilient farms to the volatile tech startups, survival rates reveal a story of grit, adaptation, and sometimes, sheer luck. This article covers the numbers behind business lifespans and why half vanish within five years, why some industries outlast others, and what separates the casualties from the champions. Here.

Protecting your well-being as a small business owner

As any business owner could tell you, running your own business requires high levels of physical, emotional, mental and financial commitment. Business owners often need to work long hours, feel a high sense of responsibility for their family and employees, and may not have anyone to talk to about their worries. This can make it difficult to maintain a healthy work-life balance and look after your mental health, especially when your business is facing challenges such as rising expenses, cashflow concerns, staffing issues or sheer busyness. Learn how.

6 tips to get your business ready for summer

If you're a business owner – particularly a bricks-and-mortar retailer – chances are the winter months have meant a quieter period for foot traffic and sales. Which means now's the perfect time to get your business in shape for summer to ensure you can hit the ground running when things ramp up. Tips.

Why do many strong SMEs still struggle to make a profit?

A full order book and steady revenue should mean healthy profits; however, many small and medium-sized businesses find themselves working harder than ever for thinner margins. The problem is rarely effort or demand, rather the quiet, invisible habits that distort financial clarity and slowly drain cash. Strong businesses don't fail for lack of ideas or effort; they sometimes could falter when profit or cash flow hides in the noise. Tips.

The top cyber threats SMEs should be aware of in 2026

Whether you're managing customer data, handling online payments, or simply relying on email to communicate, understanding the risks ahead is essential to keeping your business and its data safe. The top five cyber threats small businesses should be aware of in 2026, and how to stay protected, are here.

Top small business trends for 2026: smart tech you need to know

Every year, hundreds of small and medium businesses (SMBs), just like yours, start with high hopes of making it in a tough market, despite facing many challenges. Technology is advancing rapidly. In fact, 76% of small businesses that are jumping on smart technology trends are growing. It's a clear sign that artificial intelligence (AI) technology is key to small business success. How?

The 2026 Fashion Trends that you need to know

There are a lot of 2026 fashion trends hurtling toward us, but these are the fashion trends you need to know about ... cutting all the boring ones and focusing on the fashion trends that are wearable or unavoidable, as well as some smaller fashion trends that will grow in popularity. This video talks you through the good, the bad and the 'prepare yourself' fashion trends that we will be seeing more of in 2026. Video.

How does greenwashing affect small sustainable businesses?

The pursuit of ecological responsibility has long ceased being a niche concern, transforming into a significant force shaping consumer choices and business strategies. This shift has given rise to a market where the word "sustainable" holds considerable sway, prompting a surge in products and services marketed with an environmental halo. Yet, within this promising landscape, a shadow lengthens: the practice of greenwashing. Like this.
